

Credit Risk Manager

Indigenous Growth Fund

NACCA is seeking a qualified, highly motivated individual to fill the role of the Credit Risk Manager as part of the Indigenous Growth Fund team.

The Position

The Credit Risk Manager plays a key role in recommending new credit and extensions of credit, performing due-diligence, research, and analysis of financial documents for the Indigenous Growth Fund. They will liaise with Aboriginal Financial Institutions (AFIs) throughout the credit application and adjudication stages and will foster and maintain strong relationships with AFIs ensuring robust loan monitoring and reporting.

Key Responsibilities

- Acting as IGF's main point of contact for AFI loan applications and continuous loan administration
- Analyzing and evaluating existing and potential loans using sound credit judgement skills, ensuring lending policies and procedures and eligibility requirements are met
- Preparing and presenting a sound credit recommendation to senior management and the credit committee
- Perform annual and quarterly monitoring for existing credit facilities
- Make recommendations for continuous improvement of internal policies, procedures and processes
- Draft written loan approvals for new loans and modifications for existing loans as needed
- Maintain a current understanding of banking industry standards and practices

Qualifications and Requirements

- Bachelor's degree in Finance, Commerce, Business Administration or Economics; business related Masters or professional designation (CPA, CFA) would be an asset
- Minimum of 7 years related experience in credit risk management and commercial lending
- Sound knowledge and understanding of business financial statements, business case, cash flow analysis, commercial lending security documentation, including collection/work-out techniques and remedies

- Excellent organizational skills with the ability to prioritize, manage multiple tasks, and work independently using initiative and good judgment to assess priorities
- Excellent credit writing skills; demonstrates innovative and creative approaches to solving difficult challenges and seizing opportunities
- Excellent organizational, interpersonal and time management skills
- Excellent cross-cultural skills

Persons of Indigenous ancestry will be given preference (OHRC, section 24(1)).

Salary & Benefits

An attractive compensation package with excellent benefits including a defined benefits pension plan

NACCA is committed to an inclusive and barrier-free work environment. Workplace accommodations are available. If contacted regarding this opportunity, please advise the Human Resources representative of the accommodation measures which must be taken to enable you to be assessed in a fair and equitable manner. Thank you to all applicants; however, only persons whose applications have been selected will be contacted.

Please send resume and cover letter to HR@nacca.ca